Investment objective

The Fund's investment objective is to seek long-term growth of capital.

The Fund invests primarily in companies both in developed markets - excluding the United States ("international value portfolio") - and in emerging markets ("emerging markets portfolio"). The Investment Adviser allocates substantially all of the Fund's assets between the international value portfolio and the emerging markets portfolio using a proprietary asset allocation model.

Fund features

- The international value portfolio uses bottom-up stock selection based on fundamental research, focusing on mid to large cap value stocks in developed international markets.
- The emerging markets portfolio uses an actively managed tracking-error oriented quantitative strategy, combining bottom-up and top-down factors in security selection.

The performance data quoted herein represents past performance. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth less than their original cost, and current performance may be lower than the performance quoted. For performance data current to the most recent month end, please call 1.866.947.7000.

Returns greater than one year are annualized. Total returns assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions at net asset value when paid. Investment performance reflects contractual fee waivers. In the absence of such fee waivers, total return would be reduced. Investor Class shares charge up to a 0.25% annual shareholder service fee.

Market commentary

Bolstered by enormous monetary and fiscal stimulus policies globally, equity markets continued to ascend from their late-March lows, with emerging market (“EM”) equities outperforming developed market peers. Although the valuation gap between growth stocks and value stocks grew even wider, global central bank liquidity injections fueled a resurgence of cyclical stocks over defensive stocks during the second quarter. The top performing markets in our investable universe were Argentina, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and Germany. The worst performing markets were Qatar, Indonesia, Egypt, the United Kingdom, and Hong Kong. The best performing sectors in the MSCI ACWI ex US Index (“Index”) were materials, information technology, and consumer discretionary. The worst performing sectors were real estate, energy, and consumer staples. Every major currency except the British pound appreciated versus the US dollar during the period, thus amplifying overall returns on overseas assets for US dollar-based investors.

The Fund outperformed the Index during the quarter, due primarily to stock selection. Fund holdings in the banks, capital goods, semiconductors & semi equipment, automobiles & components, and food beverage & tobacco industry groups contributed to relative performance. Holdings in the retailing, software & services, consumer services, and commercial & professional services industry groups, along with an underweight position in the diversified financials industry group, detracted from performance compared to the Index. The top contributor to return was automobile manufacturer, Volkswagen AG (Germany). Other notable contributors included industrial conglomerate, Siemens AG (Germany), semiconductor company, Infineon Technologies AG (Germany), robotics manufacturer, FANUC Corp. (Japan), and diversified chemicals manufacturer, BASF SE (Germany). The largest detractor was jet engine manufacturer, Rolls-Royce Holdings Plc (United Kingdom). Additional notable detractors included passenger & cargo airline company, Air France-KLM SA (France), full service construction company, China Railway Construction Corp. (China), crude oil & natural gas company, BP Plc (United Kingdom), and global life insurer, Manulife Financial (Canada).

Mutual fund investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. In addition to the normal risks associated with equity investing, international investing may involve risk of capital loss from unfavorable fluctuations in currency values, from differences in generally accepted accounting principles, or from economic or political instability in other nations. Emerging markets involve heightened risks related to the same factors, as well as increased volatility and lower trading volume. Current and future holdings are subject to risk. Diversification does not protect against market loss. There is no guarantee that securities mentioned will remain in or out of the Fund.

The market commentary expresses the portfolio managers' views as of the date of this report and should not be relied on as research or investment advice regarding any stock. These views and any portfolio holdings and characteristics are subject to change. There is no guarantee that any forecasts made will come to pass. Any securities identified and described do not represent all of the securities purchased, sold, or recommended for the Fund. The reader should not assume that an investment in any securities identified was or will be profitable.

The MSCI ACWI ex USA (Gross) is a free float-adjusted market capitalization weighted index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed and emerging markets, excluding the U.S. The Index is gross of withholding taxes, assumes reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, and assumes no management, custody, transaction or other expenses. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.
