The performance data quoted herein represents past performance. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth less than their original cost, and current performance may be lower than the performance quoted. For performance data current to the most recent month end, please call 1.866.947.7000.

Returns greater than one year are annualized. Total returns assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions at net asset value when paid.

The MSCI EAFE® Index (Gross) is a free float-adjusted market capitalization index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed markets, excluding the United States and Canada. The Index is gross of withholding taxes, assumes reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, and assumes no management, custody, transaction or other expenses. The Fund's value discipline may prevent or restrict investment in major stocks in the benchmark index. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Market commentary

Bolstered by enormous monetary and fiscal stimulus policies globally, equity markets continued to ascend from their late-March lows. Although the valuation gap between growth stocks and value stocks grew even wider, global central bank liquidity injections fueled a resurgence of cyclical stocks over defensive stocks during the second quarter. The top performing markets in our investable universe were Australia, New Zealand, Germany, the Netherlands, and Finland. The worst performing markets were Indonesia, the United Kingdom, Hong Kong, Singapore, and Spain. The best performing sectors in the MSCI EAFE Index ("Index") were materials, information technology, and industrials. The worst performing sectors were energy, real estate, and consumer staples. Every major currency except the British pound appreciated versus the US dollar during the period, thus amplifying overall returns on overseas assets for US dollar-based investors.

Causeway International Value Fund ("Fund") outperformed the Index during the quarter, due primarily to stock selection. Fund holdings in the banks, capital goods, automobiles & components, materials, and transportation industry groups contributed to relative performance. Holdings in the consumer services, commercial & professional services, and technology hardware & equipment industry groups, along with an underweight position in the diversified financials and retailing industry groups, detracted from performance compared to the Index. The top contributor to return was automobile manufacturer, Volkswagen AG (Germany). Other notable contributors included industrial conglomerate, Siemens AG (Germany), semiconductor company, Infineon Technologies AG (Germany), robotics manufacturer, FANUC Corp. (Japan), and diversified chemicals manufacturer, BASF SE (Germany). The largest detractor was jet engine manufacturer, Rolls-Royce Holdings Plc (United Kingdom). Additional notable detractors included passenger & cargo airline company, Air France-KLM SA (France), global life insurer, Manulife Financial (Canada), contract food service company, Compass Group Plc (United Kingdom), and crude oil & natural gas company, BP Plc (United Kingdom).

To determine if the Causeway International Value Fund is an appropriate investment for you, carefully consider the Fund's investment objectives, risk factors, charges and expenses before investing. Mutual fund investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. In addition to the normal risks associated with equity investing, international investing may involve risk of capital loss from unfavorable fluctuations in currency values, from differences in generally accepted accounting principles, or from economic or political instability in other nations. Emerging markets involve heightened risks related to the same factors, as well as increased volatility and lower trading volume. Current and future holdings are subject to risk. Diversification does not protect against market loss. There is no guarantee that securities mentioned will remain in or out of the Fund.

The market commentary expresses the portfolio managers' views as of the date of this report and should not be relied on as research or investment advice regarding any stock. These views and any portfolio holdings and characteristics are subject to change. There is no guarantee that any forecasts made will come to pass. Any securities identified and described do not represent all of the securities purchased, sold, or recommended for the Fund. The reader should not assume that an investment in any securities identified was or will be profitable.

The Morningstar Analyst Rating™ is not a credit or risk rating. It is a subjective evaluation performed by Morningstar's manager research group, which consists of various Morningstar, Inc. subsidiaries ("Manager Research Group"). In the United States, that subsidiary is Morningstar Research Services LLC, which is registered with and governed by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. The Manager Research Group evaluates funds based on five key pillars, which are process, performance, people, parent, and price. The Manager Research Group uses this five pillar evaluation to determine how they believe funds are likely to perform relative to a benchmark, or in the case of exchange-traded funds and index mutual funds, a relevant peer group, over the long term on a risk-adjusted basis. They consider quantitative and qualitative factors in their research, and the weight of each pillar may vary. The Analyst Rating scale is Gold, Silver, Bronze, Neutral, and Negative. A Morningstar Analyst Rating of Gold, Silver, or Bronze reflects the Manager Research Group's conviction in a fund's prospects for outperformance. Analyst Ratings ultimately reflect the Manager Research Group's overall assessment, are overseen by an Analyst Rating Committee, and are continuously monitored and reevaluated at least every 14 months. For more detailed information about Morningstar's Analyst Rating, including its methodology, please go to global.morningstar.com/managerdisclosures/.

The Morningstar Analyst Rating (i) should not be used as the sole basis in evaluating a fund, (ii) involves unknown risks and uncertainties which may cause Analyst expectations not to occur or to differ significantly from what they expected, and (iii) should not be considered an offer or solicitation to buy or sell the fund.
