The performance data quoted herein represents past performance. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth less than their original cost, and current performance may be lower than the performance quoted. For performance data current to the most recent month end, please call 1.866.947.7000.

Returns greater than one year are annualized. Total returns assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions at net asset value when paid. Investment performance reflects contractual fee waivers. In the absence of such fee waivers, total return would be reduced.

Market commentary

Global equity markets rose sharply in the fourth quarter, on easing inflation concerns and optimism for China's continued reopening. Boosted by a weaker dollar, December's returns were positive, although comparatively modest, tempered by disappointing economic data and rising bond yields. The top performing markets in our investable universe were Turkey, Poland, and Hungary. The worst performing markets were Qatar, Saudi Arabia, and Indonesia. The best performing sectors in the MSCI ACWI Index ("Index") were energy, industrials, and materials. The worst performing sectors were consumer discretionary, communication services, and information technology. Currency proved favorable as major currencies advanced against the US dollar.

The Causeway Concentrated Equity Fund ("Fund"), on a net asset value basis, outperformed the Index during the quarter. On a gross return basis, Fund holdings in the capital goods, software & services, and materials industry groups contributed to relative performance. Holdings in the semiconductors & semi equipment and pharmaceuticals & biotechnology industry groups, along with an underweight position in the energy industry group, offset some of the outperformance compared to the Index. The top contributor to return was rolling stock, signaling, & services provider for the rail industry, Alstom SA (France). Other notable contributors included jet engine manufacturer, Rolls-Royce Holdings Plc (United Kingdom), and banking & financial services company, UniCredit S.p.A. (Italy). The largest detractor was technology conglomerate, Alphabet, Inc. (United States). Additional notable detractors included products & services provider for the electronic components industry, SK hynix, Inc. (South Korea), and electronic components manufacturer, Murata Manufacturing Co. Ltd. (Japan).

Risk Disclosures: Mutual fund investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. Value stocks are subject to the risks that their intrinsic value may never be realized by the market and that their prices may go down. In addition to the normal risks associated with equity investing, international investing may involve risk of capital loss from unfavorable fluctuations in currency values, from differences in generally accepted accounting principles, or from economic or political instability in other nations. Emerging markets involve heightened risks related to the same factors, as well as increased volatility and lower trading volume. Investments in smaller and medium-sized companies involve additional risks and typically exhibit higher volatility. The Fund's concentration in a limited number of stocks will increase the impact of, and potential losses associated with, the risks from investing in those stocks.
