Investment objective

The Fund's investment objective is to seek long-term growth of capital.

The Fund invests primarily in companies both in developed markets - excluding the United States ("international value portfolio") - and in emerging markets ("emerging markets portfolio"). The Investment Adviser allocates substantially all of the Fund's assets between the international value portfolio and the emerging markets portfolio using a proprietary asset allocation model.

Fund features

- The international value portfolio uses bottom-up stock selection based on fundamental research, focusing on mid to large cap value stocks in developed international markets.
- The emerging markets portfolio uses an actively managed tracking-error oriented quantitative strategy, combining bottom-up and top-down factors in security selection.

The performance data quoted herein represents past performance. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth less than their original cost, and current performance may be lower than the performance quoted. For performance data current to the most recent month end, please call 1.866.947.7000.

Returns greater than one year are annualized. Total returns assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains distributions at net asset value when paid. Investment performance reflects contractual fee waivers. In the absence of such fee waivers, total return would be reduced. Investor Class shares charge up to a 0.25% annual shareholder service fee. High relative or absolute performance may not be repeatable.

Market commentary

Global equity markets posted positive returns during the second quarter, capping a strong first half of calendar year 2023. The best-performing sectors in the MSCI ACWI ex-USA Index were information technology, industrials, and financials in local currency terms. The weakest-performing sectors during the quarter were communication services, materials, and real estate. The strongest-performing country markets in our investable universe were Greece, Hungary, and Turkey. The weakest-performing markets during the quarter were China, Finland, and Belgium in local currency terms.

The Causeway International Opportunities Fund (“Fund”), on a net asset value basis, outperformed the Index during the quarter. On a gross return basis, fund holdings in the banks, materials, and transportation industry groups were the greatest contributors to relative performance. Holdings in the automobiles & components, energy, and semiconductors & semiconductor equipment industry groups were the largest detractors from relative performance. The greatest individual contributors to absolute returns were banking & financial services company, UniCredit S.p.A. (Italy), airline, Ryanair Holdings – ADR (Ireland), and healthcare equipment & services provider, Koninklijke Philips NV (Netherlands). The largest individual detractors from absolute returns were online services company, Tencent Holdings Ltd. (China), e-commerce giant, Alibaba Group Holdings Ltd. (China), and beverage producer, Anheuser-Busch InBev SA/NV (Belgium).

Equity allocation model update

We use a proprietary quantitative equity allocation model that assists the portfolio managers in determining the weight of emerging versus developed markets in the Fund. Our allocation relative to the weight of emerging markets in the Index is currently underweight. We identify five primary factors as most indicative of the ideal allocation target: valuation, quality, earnings growth, macroeconomic, and risk aversion. Valuation is currently positive for emerging markets in our model. Our quality metrics, which include such measures as profit margins and return on equity, are negative. Our earnings growth, macroeconomic, and risk aversion factors are negative for emerging markets.

To determine if the Causeway International Opportunities Fund is an appropriate investment for you, carefully consider the Fund's investment objectives, risk factors, charges and expenses before investing. Please read the summary or full prospectus carefully before you invest or send money. To obtain additional information including charges, expenses, investment objectives, or risk factors, or to open an account, call 1.866.947.7000, or visit us online at www.causewayfunds.com.

Risk Disclosures: Mutual fund investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. In addition to the normal risks associated with equity investing, international investing may involve risk of capital loss from unfavorable fluctuations in currency values, from differences in generally accepted accounting principles, or from economic or political instability in other nations. Emerging markets involve heightened risks related to the same factors, as well as increased volatility and lower trading volume. Current and future holdings are subject to risk.

The market commentary expresses the portfolio managers' views as of the date of this report and should not be relied on as research or investment advice regarding any stock. These views and the fund holdings and characteristics are subject to change. There is no guarantee that any forecasts made will come to pass. Any securities identified and described in this report do not represent all of the securities purchased, sold or recommended for client accounts. The reader should not assume that an investment in the securities identified was or will be profitable. Diversification does not protect against market loss. There is no guarantee that securities mentioned will remain in or out of the Fund.

The MSCI ACWI ex USA Index (Gross) is a free float-adjusted market capitalization weighted index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed and emerging markets, excluding the U.S. The Index is gross of withholding taxes, assumes reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, and assumes no management, custody, transaction or other expenses. Indices are unmanaged and one cannot invest directly in an index.
